

Belarus, in partnership with the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), has launched a national initiative to improve the quality, safety, and reliability of AI services across key sectors.

Topics were discussed such as: training of qualified personnel in the development and implementation of artificial intelligence technologies, prospects for the development of artificial intelligence in Belarus, etc.

With the support of the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), Belarus is developing a comprehensive regulatory framework for artificial intelligence, drawing on international ...

We have prepared the complete documentation package and submitted it to the National Center of Legal Information to ensure the AI technology bill is included in the 2026 legislative ...

On October 13, the 4th International IT-Akademgrad Forum "Artificial Intelligence in Belarus" is taking place at the National Academy of Sciences. The program includes a summary of the work performed ...

This section provides an overview of the AI hubs in Belarus, highlighting key cities and their geographical distribution. In 2025, the leading cities in Belarus for AI research were: Minsk (12), and ...

Belarus will initiate development of artificial intelligence (AI) technology legislation in 2026, Sergei Kruglikov, Director General of the United Institute of Informatics Problems at the ...

AI servers power model training and real-time inference, accelerating AI application development and deployment. With robust computing power, high scalability, and optimized efficiency, they empower ...

Discover Top IT Companies in Belarus specialized in Artificial Intelligence including Machine Learning, Natural Language Processing, Cognitive Computing, Chatbots, Robotics and more.

Artificial Intelligence represents a major focus area within the HTP, aligning with global technological trends and contributing to the park's growth. AI applications developed by HTP ...

Belarusian AI Computing Server

Web: <https://prospettivacasa.eu>

