

Following the Taiwan Ship

Taiwan's Coast Guard Administration (CGA) boarded and detained an unregistered PRC fishing boat with no name, port of registry, or ship certificate, which the CGA refers to as a "three no's ...

The Ministry of National Defense (MND) yesterday said it had deployed joint intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance assets to track the movements of China's third aircraft carrier, the ...

The Next Taiwan Crisis Won't Be Like the Last How to Prepare for New Dangers December 2025 A Taiwan Coast Guard ship patrols near Dadan Island in October 2025. ...

Two American naval vessels were spotted sailing through the Taiwan Strait on Monday, according to the People's Liberation Army, which also said that ...

Japanese and US forces engaged in military exercises between the Philippines and Japan, sinking an old warship with surface-to-ship missiles and angering China.

An American warship sailed through a narrow sea corridor between China and Taiwan on Wednesday, Newsweek has learned, in a subtle show of force by the Trump administration amid ...

Two American naval vessels were spotted sailing through the Taiwan Strait on Monday, according to the People's Liberation Army, which also said that it was tracking the crossing.

China's aircraft carrier, the Liaoning, traversed the sensitive Taiwan Strait on Monday, marking the first such passage by a vessel of its kind since late last year, according to Taiwan's ...

A pair of U.S. naval vessels carried out Washington's first reported Taiwan Strait transit of 2026, according to Chinese and U.S. officials.

A U.S. Navy guided-missile destroyer and a survey vessel went through the Taiwan Strait over the weekend, the first such crossing confirmed this year.

China's military has accused the United States of engaging in risky behaviour in the Taiwan Strait after two US naval ships transited the international waterway.

Web: <https://prospettivacasa.eu>

